Honorable Jamie Fullmer
Chairman, Yavapai-Apache Tribal Council

Dear Chairman Fullmer:

On May 6, 2004, the Yavapai-Apache Nation enacted Tribal Resolution No. 39-04, which adopted the Title 3 Judicial Code.

A technical and legal review has been completed and we find the subject ordinance to be legally sufficient within the context of applicable Federal law and Article V and VI of the Tribe’s Constitution and Bylaws.

Our review of the subject ordinance also revealed some technical concerns that the Tribe may choose to address.

First, the statement in Section 106, Probate Jurisdiction, which purports to extend tribal court jurisdiction over “all of the real and personal property located within the jurisdiction of the court at the time of death.” This statement appears confusing, in that it used the term “located within” but referring to jurisdiction. Normally, that phrase would refer to the exterior boundaries of the reservation property located within them, not to jurisdiction of the court. Second, we find that no mention is made of a tribal prosecutor, who plays a key role in tribal judiciaries.

The Tribe may choose to make the above recommended changes and resubmit at a later date. However, we see nothing that would preclude a recommendation of approval. Therefore, by the authority delegated to the Regional Director, I hereby approve the Yavapai-Apache Nation’s Tribal Resolution No. 39-04, which adopts Title 3 Judicial Code, which is in full force and effect as of the date of this letter.

Sincerely,

[Signature]
Regional Director
